Nursing ATB Program

Associate-to-Bachelor's Degree in Nursing

Overview

Chesapeake's MGW Nursing Program promotes seamless academic progression. Obtain a B.S.N. (Bachelor of Science in Nursing) through our partner universities and colleges. Our advisors can prepare an individualized educational plan to help you prepare and progress through lifelong learning.

Admission

Admission to the ATB option requires two applications:

1. Apply to the Chesapeake College R.N. MGW Nursing Program
2. Apply to the preferred university partner(s)

Admission requirements and instructions to apply are outlined on the partner universities' websites.

Partners

Take advantage of our Dual Admission partnerships with:

- American Public University System (APUS)
- Frostburg State University (FSU)
- Stevenson University Online (SUO)
- University of Maryland School of Nursing (UMSON)

With our Dual Admission Partnerships, online classes are taken concurrently with your Chesapeake College MGW Nursing courses.

Each partner school determines their own prerequisites, curriculum and policies.

Students can also complete their bachelor's degree in nursing part time while working as an R.N. full time in approximately two to three additional semesters following completion of the associate degree.

Completion

To graduate with the B.S.N. degree, 30-33 credits must be taken at the partner university. Students may have the option of taking some of the university prerequisite course requirements at Chesapeake College.

Our Dual Admission Partners also offer R.N. to B.S.N. options after completion of the associate degree at Chesapeake College.
